CLEMENTS WORLDWIDE EARNS “BEST PRACTICES AGENCY” DISTINCTION, FOR THE FOURTH YEAR IN A ROW.

OF THE 1200 NOMINATED AGENCIES, CLEMENTS WORLDWIDE RANKS AMONG THE TOP 40 HIGH-PERFORMING INSURANCE AGENCIES. 2011 MARKS THE FOURTH CONSECUTIVE YEAR THAT CLEMENTS HAS RECEIVED THE IIABA “BEST PRACTICES AGENCY” ACCOLADE.

WASHINGTON D.C. (SEPTEMBER 22, 2011) – Clements Worldwide, a leading provider of international insurance solutions, was named “Best Practices Agency” by the Independent Insurance Agents & Brokers of America (IIABA) for the fourth consecutive year. This prestigious recognition is based on the recently announced results of IIABA’s Best Practices Study, which highlights the top performers among the country’s leading independent insurance agencies.

A total of 1200 agencies were nominated to participate in this year’s study, out of which 224 qualified to be evaluated by the IIABA in areas such as operational excellence, productivity, and financial stability. Clements Worldwide showed outstanding results in every category once again, and was ranked among the top 40 high-performing agencies in its revenue category, among other significant achievements.

“We are very proud to be recognized for our continued high performance and to receive the ‘Best Practices’ award for a fourth year in a row”, says Tarun Chopra, Chief Financial Officer at Clements Worldwide. “At Clements, we strive to consistently deliver financial and operational excellence, and this renewed distinction by IIABA proves we are indeed accomplishing our goal.”

This dedication to excellence has been especially significant given Clements’ recent global expansion. In 2010, Clements’ London office opened its doors, providing additional support for international insurance needs of expatriates and organizations abroad. As Clements’ global presence increases, so does their commitment to maintain the “Best Practices Agency” status for a fifth consecutive year and more.
