

International Insurance for Embassies

Customized protection for embassies around the world.

Since 1947, Clements Worldwide has proudly served the global diplomatic community, providing customized insurance solutions that protect both embassies and their staff during their overseas missions. In addition to understanding the unique insurance requirements of embassies abroad, we also recognize and understand the challenges experienced by diplomats and their families, so we've developed a full suite of products to keep you and your staff protected.

As a Lloyd's of London coverholder, Clements has strong relationships with insurers globally which enables us to provide more insurance options. It also places Clements further up the insurance value chain compared to a traditional brokerage, with Clements also offering claims adjudication, policy servicing, and sales and marketing support.
